Sunday 6th August 2023

Scripture Focus

Matthew 14:13–21

An experience of grief leads to the act of compassion recorded in today's Gospel reading.

<sup>13</sup> When Jesus heard what had happened, he withdrew by boat privately to a solitary place. Hearing of this, the crowds followed him on foot from the towns. <sup>14</sup> When Jesus landed and saw a large crowd, he had compassion on them and healed their sick.

“When Jesus heard this” refers to the death of John the Baptizer (14:1–12). Then As Jesus seeks rest – and perhaps time to grieve – in withdrawal from community, the crowds follow.

Jesus' compassion leads first to healing and then to feeding. Compassion is more than an attitude – it is faith in action. Those who respond with compassion can trust that God will provide for the need of the other and also for the need generated by their action.

After Jesus has healed many (14:14), the disciples want to send people away from Jesus. .... for their own good – it is evening and they need to find food.

But where the disciples would close off community and leave others to fend for themselves, Jesus summons community to be opened in ministry to others. The disciples find themselves called to trust God's abundance – abundance that is not yet in view.

Note the verbs Jesus speaks in this deserted place. They are the same verbs used in worship when faith communities celebrate Communion: take, bless, break, give, .....; all may eat, all may be filled. Abundant Love.

Our Uniting Church members, along with other Australians, are engaging in the conversation about a First Nations Voice and The Uluru Statement from the Heart.
